

Our Communities are Busy with Things To Do This Summer!

The Spoonbill Summer Sampler - June 2019

In the Mood?

Mark Your Calendar for June 25th!

The Friends of A1A are teaming up with Flagler Beach businesses to lend a hand during the A1A construction project, by hosting the bi-weekly A1A Pop Up! Biz Socials.

Showcasing Flagler Beach businesses directly affected by the construction, we're inviting the community to come support these great, family-owned businesses by having a drink, an appetizer, or dinner. Discover new places and make new friends while supporting the businesses that make our communities so special.

We're teaming up with the Flagler Beach Historical Museum, Flagler Beach All-Stars and CurleyTail Design for our next social on Tuesday, June 25th from 5:30-8:00 pm at The Island Grille in Flagler Beach, and we hope to see you there!

Where else can you enjoy a free concert under the stars than in St. Augustine Beach?

The Music By the Sea Concert Series is in full swing, and the St. Augustine Civic Association welcomes the community to these family-friendly events.

This week's entertainment, 2018 St. Augustine Music Hall of Fame inductees "Those Guys", is complemented by dining for purchase from "Sporks". Bring the family, a beach blanket and get ready for an unforgettable evening!

Don't forget to pop into The Art Studio & Gallery of St. Augustine Beach, just steps away from Pier Park and check out this month's featured artist, Ellie McIntosh.

Nearly 30,000 People Jam Ocean Front As Marine Studios Open

A Portion of the Tremendous Crowd

Caught by the camera in the above picture is a portion of the record-breaking throngs which massed from many localities yesterday at Marineland to witness the formal dedication of the $500,000 Marine Studios. This scene, which gives an indication of the size of the crowd, estimated at nearly 30,000, was snapped from the western side of the Ocean Shore Boulevard, looking eastward across the automobile-packed highway to the gigantic tanks swarming with men, women and children.

Traffic Blocked for Miles By Huge Throng Gathered for Ceremony

NOTABLES SPEAK

Spectacular Tourist Attraction Is Thrown Open to Public

The pioneer development inaugurated many years ago by Henry Morrison Flagler, creator of Florida's famed East Coast, might be said to have reached culmination yesterday—through the disclosure to a fascinated, thrilled public of the modern-day miracle that is Marine Studios.

Despite the torrential downpour just prior to the opening ceremonies crowds conservatively estimated at between 25,000 and 30,000 people blocked traffic for miles along the Ocean Shore Boulevard to the north and south of Marineland. Massed cars stood for hours unable to move an inch, yet their occupants apparently did not think of departing before getting at least a glimpse of the ubiasea wonders revealed by the world's largest and
