Introduction

Big Bend Scenic Byway

Ormond Scenic Loop and Trail

Indian River Lagoon National Scenic

Florida Black Bear National Scenic

The Florida Scenic Highways Program was established in 1996 under the Florida Department of Transportation following the creation of the National Scenic Byway Program. As of 2019, Florida's collection was made up of twenty-six designated Florida Scenic Highways, six of which are National Scenic Byways, and one of these an All-American Road. The scenic corridors are supported by their local Byway Organizations and communities who put countless volunteer hours into promoting and protecting their scenic highways.

In November 2019, Byway Organization leaders and volunteers came together in DeBary, Florida to participate in the 2019 Statewide Meeting where the winner of the Garry Balogh Inspiring Excellence Award was presented. Lastly, the report features Byway Annual Report highlights from eighteen participating byways. We hope this document provides our readers with a meaningful look into the annual activities that have taken place at the national, state, and byway level.

The event featured many engaging speakers and interesting topics including byway advocacy, partnerships and marketing, scenic and aesthetic guidelines, trail navigation apps, and historical resources. 2019 Balogh Award Recipient, Judy Hull

2019 Garry Balogh Inspiring Excellence Award Recipient

Recognition was paid to Judy Hull of the Florida Keys Scenic Corridor Alliance for receiving the 2019 Garry Balogh Inspiring Excellence Award during the Annual Statewide Meeting. Not only did Judy help establish the Alliance, but she has played a significant role in establishing goals and objectives aimed at creating a partnership between the byway organization, Monroe County and other Keys organizations. Judy lead the successful effort earning the byway's All-American Road Designation. Her activism helped sponsor a series of discussions with municipalities, Monroe County, FDOT, and other state and federal agencies concerning long-term use of recreation areas in the Islamorada area. Judy's leadership has been tireless to ensure that the entire length of the byway has been adopted by local groups that participate in scheduled cleanup days with FDOT's Adopt-A-Highway Program. Judy's passion and loyalty to the Program and the Florida Keys All-American Road makes her truly deserving of this prestigious award.
